

Are returns ruining your bottom line?

Are returns ruining your bottom line?

How do you deal with your returns?

With online product returns costing retailers 20 billion each year, returns management can be a logistical nightmare for many businesses.

Ribble Restore returns management process will maximise the value recovery from your returned items. Ribble's latest solution is designed to restore profit to your returns. Using state of the art technology we can repackage your returned goods into right sized boxes allowing you to resell the product again at full value.

Ribble Restore will help you to:

Recover
valuable stock

Repack
in pristine right size boxes

Resell
at full value adding immediate profits to your bottom line

RESTORE The Process

1

2

3

Our proven Restore process provides a quick turnaround for your returned items while at the same time producing a quality end product made to your specifications.

1

Your items go through a quality control process based on your required specifications and can be graded if required.

2

The Restore team repackage your items into perfect fit boxes, re barcode, label and add to your stock holding.

3

The Items are palletised and ready to be returned to you and sold at full value.

RESTORE The Benefits

As well as the superior support and additional value which Restore can provide, the service can also offer more improvements for your business including:

Reductions in your environmental impact by recycling returned items

Outsourcing quality control of returns out of your warehouse

Reduction on landfill tax

Meeting your green and CSR responsibilities

State of the art Box on Demand technology

Bespoke Service to Meet Your Needs

At Ribble we provide a service that suits your needs, be it quality check standards or process specifications we can design a bespoke system to ensure a seamless and consistent integration with your current operations.

Free Reverse Process Review

We can calculate a detailed ROI based on the key data of your current returns management to give you an in-depth analysis of the benefits our service could provide for you. We will examine the following areas to create the detailed breakdown:

Annualised sales and average selling price

Current percentage of returns

Percentage of returns fit for resale

Current recovery value

Contact Us

Get in touch with the specialists at Ribble Packaging to find out more about Ribble Restore and the benefits it can have for your business.

Call us on 0161 622 2350
to speak to a member of our team